MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR KEEPING ANIMALS

Animals must be kept in accordance with the requirements of any existing code of practice.

- 1) The person keeping the animal must ensure that –
 - a) The animal does not:
 - i) Cause a nuisance; or
 - ii) Expose the health and safety of other persons and animals to significant risk; or
 - iii) Create a reasonable apprehension in the minds of other persons of a significant risk to health and safety of persons, other animals or that animal; and
 - b) Wastewaters from enclosures are drained in a nuisance free manner and that run-off is kept off adjoining land; and
 - c) Excreta, food scraps, and other material that is, or is likely to become, offensive is collected at least once in each day and, if not immediately disposed of, is kept in a fly proof container; and
 - d) Any enclosure in which an animal is kept in a clean and sanitary condition, free from dust and odour and properly maintained in an aesthetically acceptable condition; and
 - e) The area available to the animal kept on the premises is appropriately sized so that the animal can be effectively and comfortably kept; and
 - f) Any animal food is stored in an impervious fly proof and vermin proof receptacle or in an impervious fly proof and vermin proof storeroom facility; and
 - g) All animals kept on the premises are provided with and have access to adequate shelter, drinking water and appropriate food; and
 - h) Any enclosure used for the purpose of keeping an animal is thoroughly cleaned each week and effectively treated with an insecticide at least twice a year; and
 - i) Upon discovering the existence of a dead animal, immediately dispose of the remains of the dead animal so as not to cause a nuisance. The remains must not be disposed of on or in a public place.
- 2) For subsection 1(a)(i), a nuisance occurs if an authorised officer considers there is sufficient evidence that people in nearby properties are being affected by the activity of the offending animal.
