INTRODUCTION

Mareeba Shire War Memorial Heritage Asset List 2015

The purpose of this document is to catalogue and report on the condition of all known war memorial sites in the Mareeba Shire. This report and its recommendations will inform future restoration and conservation of these heritage assets.

‘Memorials’ in this document are regarded as:

- cenotaphs and statues
- honour boards
- plaques
- buildings
- signs

Memorials from the First World War through to Vietnam are included with their locations and GPS coordinates (where known). Current photographs have been used where possible—older images have been used where access to memorials is difficult or not possible. The photographs identify any aesthetic/construction issues for auditing purposes.

During the development of this report, the Mareeba cenotaph underwent some renovation prior to the 2015 Anzac Day celebrations, and a new cenotaph at Mt Molloy was completed.

Traditionally, ‘honour rolls’ provide details of members of the Australian armed forces who died while on active service. However, many of the honour rolls/boards in the Mareeba Shire show not only those who died in service, but those who were injured, as well as all personnel who served - so that is an inconsistency.

The wording on each memorial has been transcribed in full within this document (except for some parts of the Chillagoe memorial). All First World War names have been cross-checked against the First World War nominal roll for the shire that has been compiled by the Mareeba Heritage Centre (Jackie Morris and Col Cater). Please note that only the First World War nominal roll names have been fully checked in this manner. Where anomalies with names have been identified, they have been noted beside the name listed (in this document) in red italics. What has become obvious through this process, is that there are quite a few errors on many memorials such as incorrect names, or spelling of names, or use of nicknames.

There are many instances where the same soldier is listed on multiple memorials - for the full and correct First World War nominal roll, please consult with the Mareeba Heritage Centre. They have also noted all the different and multiple honour boards/plaques soldiers may feature on.

All information collected has been done with the resources currently available, including input from individuals who have specific knowledge of the memorials. Every care has been taken to ensure the accuracy of the information provided, however if there are any errors they can be noted for any future updates.

Mareeba Cenotaph

Location: Byrnes Street, Mareeba
16°59'35"S | 145°25'21"E

When built: 1923

Construction:

Concrete and marble pillar with soldier statue on top. Marble plaques on three sides (East, North, South) which are inscribed with inlaid lead. The statue of the soldier is facing to the East and considered to be the front of the cenotaph.

Condition (as of February 2015):

The pillar and soldier needs cleaning/painting, there is evidence of black marker pen written over the soldiers names, and the base of ceramic tiles is badly cracked.

Note: in April 2015, the cenotaph underwent renovation. The tiles at the base were replaced, the inlaid lead inscriptions were repaired, and the monument was cleaned.

Comments:

The cenotaph was built through the fundraising work of the Soldier's Memorial Committee, and constructed by Melrose and Fenwick. It was unveiled on Anzac Day in 1923. This cenotaph has been moved a number of times

1. Originally in the middle of the intersection of Byrnes and Atherton Streets.
2. Moved to Arnold Park on Walsh Street in 1990s.
3. Current location at Anzac Park, Byrnes Street in 2000.

Anzac Park - Guns

Location: Byrnes Street, Mareeba (behind cenotaph)
16°59'35"S | 145°25'21"E

When built: 2001

Construction:

Both guns are sitting on concrete bases and pillars. Gun on the left has an engraved metal plaque.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Both guns are weathered, scratched and have graffiti on them. Plaque is also weathered.

Comments:

Guns were repainted in April 2015 for Anzac Day celebrations.

Inscription:

This 105mm L5 Pack Howitzer is donated to the Mareeba District Community in appreciation for the restoration of Anzac Park. Presented by the President of the Mareeba RSL Sub Branch, Roy Blakeney and members, to the Mayor of Mareeba Shire Council Mick Borzi OBE, in remembrance of the fallen comrades. Long Tan Day 18th August 2001. "LEST WE FORGET"

Anzac Park - Tree Memorial

Location: Byrnes Street, Mareeba (behind cenotaph)
16°59'35"S | 145°25'21"E

When built: c. 2000s

Construction:

Small metal plaque embedded in a small concrete surround.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Metal plaque is very scratched and the concrete base is chipped and needs painting.

Comments:

Needs painting and new plaque, although possibly easier to replace the lot. Tree in good condition.

Inscription:

This tree was planted by Eric Moore Esq (QX3959) as a living symbol to remember all who have served Australia in times of conflict.

Woothakata Shire - Honour Board

Location: Mareeba Heritage Centre
345 Byrnes Street, Mareeba
16°59'35"S | 145°25'21"E

First World War

When built: c. 1920s

Construction:

Copper and brass embossed honour board.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Very good condition.

There was another Woothakata/Mareeba Shire Honour Board that was made out of silky oak timber and was housed in the old School of Arts building at 136 Walsh Street. Unfortunately this building and the honour board burned down in 1954. A new Mareeba Shire Hall (former) was then constructed on the same site in 1960-61 and is now the PCYC hall.

Inscription:

*Woothakata Shire Council
1914 – 1919*

Mareeba Anglican Church - Plaques

Location: 53 Constance Street, Mareeba
16°59'39"S | 145°25'31"E

First World War

Marble Plaque: Jack Calloway Healy

When built: 1917

Construction:

Located on the back wall to the left when entering the church. Engraved marble made of a large marble slab and etched with gold lettering. The marble is fastened to the wall with two screws.

Condition (as of February 2015):

There is some rust around the screws that attach the plaque to the wall, but otherwise in good condition.

Comments:

Originally located in Wolfram. When the town fell into disuse in the Great Depression, the plaque was moved to Mareeba. Dedicated by the Bishop John Oliver Feetman of Wolfram Church.

Inscription:

In memory of Jack Galloway Healy, killed in action, France, 11th April 1917. First death from Wolfram.

Gold Plaque: Jack Calloway Healy

When built: 2005

Construction:

Located on the wall to the right of the marble plaque is a small plaque made wood, with printed text on a gold aluminium plate.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Excellent condition.

Inscription:

On the 16th November 1917 this memorial tablet was dedicated in St David's, Wolfram Camp. It is the last remaining part of the Church, which was dedicated by Bishop John Oliver Feetman on 20th February 1917. On 15th June 1917, "The Northern Churchman" reported: "That a cloud of gloom hung over the town when word was received that Jack Galloway Healy had been killed in action in France, we sympathise with his Mother". St David's Church, Wolfram Camp fell into disuse in the Great Depression when mining ceased and the plaque was moved to St. George's Mareeba.

Uniting Church - Memorial Light

Location: 189-193 Walsh Street, Mareeba
16°59'51"S | 145°25'28"E

When built: 1960

Construction:
Timber (a native timber) and glass.

Condition (as of February 2015):
Good. It is regularly maintained.

Comments:
The church building Architect was Eddie Oribin—reknown for his different style. The Mareeba Town Hall and the old Presbyterian Church in Innisfail were designed by him. The church is keen to preserve these buildings, but it has not been heritage listed yet.

Mareeba Aerodrome - Memorials

Location: Vicary Road, Mareeba
17°4'13"S | 145°25'53"E

When built: 1982

Memorial Pillar

Construction:

Concrete pillar painted white with a single plaque.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Paintwork in need of urgent attention - very chipped and in poor condition, and mouldy. The metal plaque is in good condition.

Comments:

Requires mould removed and repainting. The small patch of ground it sits on is particularly ugly and unloved.

Inscription:

Commemorating the decisive part this aerodrome played in maintaining Australia free from invasion 1942 – 1946.

Memorial with Water Feature

When built: 1992

Construction:

This large monument has a wall of marble tiles with a large propeller attached. The lower blade of the propeller sits on a marble block which has a metal plaque set into it. This block sits in a semi-circular pond of water with a circular spray into the air. The front of the water feature is finished with blue tiles. There are three smaller plaques on the left hand side of the monument. There were once four plaques but one appears to be missing.

Condition (as of February 2015):

There are some water stains around the water feature and a couple of cracked tiles. Tablelands red dirt stains in tile grout. Otherwise it is in fairly good condition.

Comments:

Requires some mark and mould removal. Blue tiles date the monument and recommend they be changed in the future when funds are available.

All memorials at Mareeba Aerodrome have been donated by the Mareeba R.S.L. Sub Branch.

Inscription on main monument:

MAREEBA AERODROME

This aerodrome played a decisive part in keeping Australia free from invasion during second World War – 1939 – 45. Allied aircraft from the 19th and 43rd bombardment groups of the United States army airforce and from the RAAF launched an air offensive against the Japanese invaders in June/July, 1942.

Inscription on plaque 1 (top left side):

MAREEBA AERODROME

This plaque is dedicated to the memory of those who served with No 5 Squadron RAAF based at Mareeba Aerodrome from 28th May, 1943 to 17th November 1944.

Inscription on plaque 2 (second left side):

MAREEBA AREODROME 1939 – 1945

On 25th July, 1942 Beaufort aircraft flown by crews of No 100 squadron RAAF took off from the aerodrome to carry out the first bombing strikes by Australian built bombers against enemy targets in New Guinea.

Inscription on plaque 3 (missing):

MAREEBA AERODROME 1939 - 1945

This plaque is dedicated to the memory of the ten (10) U.S. servicemen, aircrew of a flying fortress bomber, who lost their lives when their plane crashed in the vicinity of the Mareeba Areodrome in July, 1942.

Inscription on plaque 4 (bottom left side):

MAREEBA AERODROME 1939 – 1945

This plaque is dedicated to the memory of ANDREW KENDALL DUKE, 22 years, of Oxford, Mississippi, U.S.A., who was killed when his Lockheed P38 lightening fighter bomber crashed near Bibbohra on 9th August 1943.

Boulder with plaque (left side)

Large boulder with a metal plaque with raised gold lettering.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Good condition.

Inscription:

*Major Dean C. HOEVET
United States Army Air Forces
5th Air Force
19th Bombardment Squadron
Serial No 0 – 022248*

"HOEVET FIELD" was the name this airstrip was titled during World War II after the tragic death of Major Dean C Hoevet.

HOEVET, born at Fairfield, Nebraska USA on 1st April 1911, graduated from Kelly Field, and flew at Randolph Field in 1937.

HOEVET was a career army man and trained in heavy bombers, then moved to Corregidor with the 19th Bombardment Group.

Early in the summer of 1942 the Mareeba Airstrip was ready and Major Hoevet was commanding in the 19th Bombardment Group, 30th Bombardment Squadron. From this airfield Hoevet led many strategic and planned missions on the enemy in Rabaul and was posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

On the 16th August 1942, HOEVET was the pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress that crashed in the ocean near Yorkeys Knob, Cairns Far North Queensland whilst testing flares.

Major Dean Carol "Pinky" HOEVET was a well respected officer and as a sign of respect this airstrip was posthumously named "Hoevet Field" to honour his memory forever.

Inscription:

In memory of the crew and the United States Air Forces B-17F Flying Fortress, Serial 41-24391 nicknamed "Hoomalimali" attached to the Fifth Air Force, 43rd Bombardment Group, 63rd Bombardment Squadron, that crashed on the 14th September 1942 during take-off at Hoevet Field, Mareeba.

At 03.30hrs "Hoomalimali" was one of many B-17's that were destined for 7 Mile Field Port Moresby for a bombing mission. With its heavy bomb and fuel load, the aircraft began to taxi along the strip.

The aircraft began its take off late along the airstrip, full power was applied, causing the plane to lift off but due to the overload cargo and lack of power the aircraft flew for approx. ½ a mile off the end of the airstrip crashing into a thick woodland causing it to explode on impact, tragically killing all aboard.

First World War

Various graves

When built: 1896

Construction:
Timber rotunda

Condition (as of February 2015):

Good condition. Lists of names/graves in the centre of the rotunda is very weathered and not suited to the open environment in which it's set. Needs replacing with something more suitable to withstand the elements.

Comments:

Whilst this cemetery is not an official war memorial, there are graves here of personnel who served in the wars. This site will be included on the Mareeba Shire Anzac Trail.

Earliest known burial is 1896. The list of names needs to be redone and updated. Suggest contacting Elwyn Troughton and Lorraine Townsend for this work via Mareeba Heritage Centre.

Mareeba Historical Society

Location: Centenary Park, Mammino Street, Mareeba

When built: 2004

Construction:
Colorbond shed.

Condition (as of February 2015):
Good condition.

Comments:
The Mareeba Historical Society (MHS) is not an official war memorial but will be included on the Mareeba Shire Anzac Trail. The building opened in 2004 and is owned by the Mareeba Historical Society. MHS is a self-funded, not-for-profit organisation.

The Mareeba Heritage Centre

Location: 345 Byrnes Street, Mareeba
17°0'40"S | 145°25'33"E

When built: 1995

Construction:
Concrete block and timber.

Condition (as of February 2015):
Good condition.

Comments:
The Mareeba Heritage Centre is not an official war memorial, but will be included on the Mareeba Shire Anzac Trail as it has a permanent war display and houses two honour boards. Mareeba Heritage Centre was built by a team of five led by Mick Borzi and raised $252,000. It was handed over to the Council in 1995.

The Beck Museum

Location: Syd Beck Road, Mareeba
17°3'14"S | 145°25'59"E

When built: 1940s

Construction:
Iron WW2 "igloo" that houses a privately owned aviation and military museum.

Condition (as of February 2015):
Good condition.

Comments:
Museum is not an official war memorial, but there is a large amount of war memorabilia and war equipment/artillery. It is believed that the family is selling off some of the artifacts. It is open on weekends only. This site will be included on the Mareeba Shire Anzac Trail.

Memorial Pillar

Location: Main Street, Mt Molloy
16°40'29"S | 145°19'48"E

First World War

Second World War

When built: 1995

Construction:

This new memorial consists of a cenotaph and two memorial wall wings made from granite. It is situated next to the Memorial Hall.

The metal wreath and three plaques were from the original memorial pillar - they were removed and reused on the new cenotaph.

The original/old memorial was a white painted concrete pillar with the three metal plaques, and wreath attached. It will remain on the median strip of the main road through town.

Condition (as of April 2015):

Excellent condition - construction of new cenotaph completed April 2015.

Comments:

The new memorial will also have plaques added with the names of returned soldiers from the Boer War, WW1 and WW2 who are buried at the Mt Molloy Cemetery.

The metal wreath on top of the memorial was once stolen and found in Rifle Creek during a dry season.

Inscription (centre panel):

This memorial is dedicated to the men and women of this district who answered their country's call and particularly those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

They shall grow not old as we that are left grow old, age shall not weary them nor the years condemn, at the going down of the sun and in the morning we will remember them. Lest we forget.

Construction:
This Roll of Honour is a wooden board with wood burn etching or black paint writing.

Condition (as of February 2015):
Very good condition.

Comments:
This was the original Mt Molloy Honour Board. It has been noted that in the 1920 cyclone, the town hall was destroyed and the Honour Roll went into the Mitchell River—it floated along until someone pulled it out near Ord's Crossing (as told by Bunny Sides to the Mareeba Historical Society). This story has been disputed by some Mt Molloy locals.

German Trench Mortar - War Trophy

Location: Loudoun House Museum
 16 O'Callaghan St, Irvinebank
 17°25'46"S | 145°12'16"E

First World War

When built: c. 1900s

Condition (as of February 2015):
 Poor condition - rusty and cracked.

Comments:
 The mortar has some structural cracks underneath, after miners placed explosives in the barrel during 'Cracker Night' celebrations in the 1950s. Needs repairing.

Photos by: Loudoun House Museum, Irvinebank

STANNARY HILLS

Honour Board

Location: Private collection in Cairns
(not for public viewing)

First World War

When built: c. 1920

Construction:
Made of brass on a timber board.

Condition (as of February 2015):
Excellent condition.

Comments:
This board is privately owned by the Cifuentes family in Cairns. The story goes that Margaret Cifuentes' son saw the board in a second hand shop in Cairns and bought it at auction for $5. His family is originally from Irvinebank/Herberton area, and they have family connections with Stannary Hills. Margaret is happy to loan it if requested - this can be arranged through the Loudoun House Museum in Irvinebank.

Honour Board and Memorial Tree

Location: cnr James and Ethel Streets, Watsonville
17°22'42"S | 145°18'43"E

First World War

When built: 2000

Construction:

Engraved timber slats behind perspex on a free-standing metal frame with small roof cover.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Good condition.

Comments:

The Watsonville Anzac Memorial Tree (mango tree) was planted in 1916 and is possibly the oldest memorial tree in the Mareeba Shire. The honour board was built by Blue McAlister.

CHILLAGOE

Cenotaph

Location: Town Hall
10-12 Queen Street, Chillagoe
17°9'12"S | 144°31'19"E

- First World War
- Second World War
- Korea
- Vietnam

When built: 2000 - 2015

Construction:

Located beside the Chillagoe Town Hall this memorial is a marble pillar with three metal plaques attached listing soldiers' names, number, and unit. On top of the pillar is a lead statue of a soldier in uniform holding a rifle.

To the side of the pillar is a German gun mounted on a raised step of blue tiles.

Condition (as of February 2015):

Excellent condition.

Comments:

Erected by volunteers. Construction commenced in 2000 with a marble slab donated by Cairns Marble. Funds were raised by the Community Church for the first plaque.

In 2002, Sylvia Coburn successfully applied for a grant to install a statue of a soldier on top of the cenotaph. The sculpture is from a photograph of soldier Ferdinand Ahlers, from Maytown, and completed by a sculptor in Acacia Ridge.

In 2006, the Chillagoe community raised $3,000 and the RSL donated $1,000 towards the three new plaques. $5,000 was provided by council for the tiles around the memorial, which was completed January 2015.

The German gun at the base of the cenotaph was sent to Chillagoe around 1922 as a war trophy. No records can be found to ascertain any details on its arrival. It is a German 7.58 cm Leichte minenwerfer (trench mortar) similar to that at the Loudon House Museum in Irvinebank and Herberton. One of about 16 Australia wide.

The cenotaph also includes names of all the locals who were part of the Second World War Militia (civilian army).

Photos by: Sue Colman

Inscription: by Sue Colman

NOTE: Only the names on the cenotaph are listed here, not the service number or unit details. For these details please contact Sue Colman or the Chillagoe Historical Society.

WW2 SITE MARKERS

Mareeba

There are 93 WW2 site markers around the Atherton Tablelands—with the majority in Ravenshoe, Wondecla, Tinaroo, Kairi, and Tolga. These markers are all brown, engraved timber signs attached to steel posts. In the Mareeba Shire, there are five of these markers - one in Mareeba and four in Kuranda.

In 2012, the Tablelands Branch of the National Servicemen's Association undertook the refurbishment of these signs. A Department of Veterans' Affairs - "Saluting their Service" Commemoration Grant was approved and allowed for all signs to be replaced. The Carpenters Shop at Lotus Glen Correctional Centre was enlisted to engrave and paint the markers. These markers are in good condition. Contact John Hardy (p. 0408 939 910) for the full Atherton Tablelands list of markers.

There are also a number of Mareeba Shire Council (MSC) WW2 markers within Mareeba. Many of these are in poor condition. They are pale yellow timber posts with sign writing along the length of the post. It is unknown how many are in still in existence - council records should show how many were erected and where. This report only contains three that were easily located.
